Inspired by Monteverdi's masterpiece "Vespero della Beata Vergine", Edwards ingeniously weaves symbols of day and night into a profound contemplation on the pressing ecological crisis of our time. It symbolises both a farewell to humanity's destructive dominance and the dawn of a new era – a rekindling of the sacred feminine principle, embodied by the night.

VESPERS FOR MOTHER EARTH

DETAILS

Join The Song Company's 40th Anniversary with a musical event like no other—the world premiere of Vespers for Mother Earth, an astonishing new work by Ross Edwards.

Joining an expanded ensemble on stage at City Recital Hall is an eclectic array of instrumental forces led by the groundbreaking Ensemble Offspring. In an eagerly anticipated moment, long-term Artistic Director of The Song Company Roland Peelman returns to direct after a nine-year absence.

Edwards ingeniously weaves symbols of day and night into a profound contemplation on the pressing ecological crisis of our time. It symbolises both a farewell to humanity's destructive dominance and the dawn of a new era — a rekindling of the sacred feminine principle, embodied by the night.

The program's first half is a celebration of the company's rich history of collaborations with luminaries of Australian music, such as Peter Sculthorpe, Elena Kats-Chernin, Nigel Butterly and Katy Abbott. It also looks to the future, showcasing the next generation of composers, including Alice Chance and Sonya Hollowell, and a captivating new work by Angus Davison.

Sunday 23 June, 3pm
City Recital Hall
Angel Place,
Sydney
